LEADERSHIP ADVISORY SERVICES

Leadership capability is the key to business success - some organisations do this better than others - as a result, they gain an edge over their competition

Talent Intelligence advises some of the world's leading organisations on leadership capability and underlying risk.

We have uncovered clear evidence on what factors truly differentiate organisations in the leadership space and have deployed this knowledge internally and with our clients to achieve powerful outcomes.

What We Do:

Bring our global capability, insights and research to our clients in a way that changes their thinking.

Help our clients identify, attract, retain, develop and deploy leaders faster and better than their competitors.

Advise the Board, CEO and leadership team in making informed choices about leadership risk through the building and continuous benchmarking of their leadership capability.

Talent Intelligence Launches a New Service Offering - Leadership Advisory Services – that Complements the Existing Business Model

With our extensive experience in benchmarking leaders and emerging talent globally across a wide range of industries covering Board, C-Level and high value functional and/or technical level positions we are pleased to announce the launch of a complementary offering namely Leadership Advisory Services (LAS).
